Foreword

We believe that an annual should be a book depicting school life, just as it is. With this idea, we chose for our theme "The School and School Life."

If in the years to come you look through this book and remember yourself as you were, your school as it was, then our labors have not been in vain. With this end in view, we present to you the COLONNADE of 1942.

S. C. A. COUNCIL

The Student Cooperative Association is the newest and largest organization in the high school. Its membership includes every boy and girl in the school. Its council is composed of the president of each organization in the school and a representative from each home room.

The main purposes of the S. C. A. are to promote citizenship, cooperation, health, recreation, and self-improvement. It acts as a clearing house for the various organizations.

Since its establishment in the fall of this year, it has sponsored the Red Cross and Tuberculosis Campaigns, a campaign to purchase a radio for the school, the Defense Bond and Stamp drive, and an organized effort to save paper, stamps and metal tubes for defense. It has, also, given many and varied assembly programs for the student body.

PURPOSES

The Pepergram is published for the purpose of teaching journalism to the students. It is an avocation to prepare those who are interested in journalism as a vocation.

The paper is a means by which the students, faculty, and patrons may be kept informed about school events and activities. It is published monthly by a competent editorial and business staff.

HISTORY

The Pepergram was first founded by Mrs. H. B. Lacy in 1930. Last year the Pepergram won first place in a state contest of "C" class school editions. It has developed into an interesting and entertaining feature.

PEPERGRAM TO BE JUDGED

The first three issues of the 1941-42 Pepergram were sent to the National Scholastic Press Association on January 20, 1942 for criticism. The paper will be rated and returned some time this month.

BUSINESS STAFF

Mary Campbell Chilton is the Business Manager for the Pepergram. Assistants are: Peggy McVeigh, Rosalie Kibler, Bob Chilton, Dicky Furnival, Cecil Carder, Joe Brown, Katherine Whitehurst, Elizabeth Jones, Frances Graves, Walton Loving, Edgar Bushong, Mary McClary, Mary Petty, Patsy Carder, Audrey Huffman, Betty Jeffries, Dorothy Kelly, Effie Sours, Margaret Eggborn, Carolyn Eller, Mary Catron, Clara Hawkins, Hilda Thornhill, Marshall Jenkins, and Beverly Harlow.

PEPERGRAM'S GALA EVENING

The December issue stated that the Pepergram staff would entertain the student body at a dance. Well, they did and was it fun! There was plenty of music, food and fun for everyone. We even were entertained with selections from our own students. All especially liked Thomas Hitt's arrangement of "Begin the Beguine." When can we have another of these parties?

QUILL AND SCROLL ORGANIZED

A chapter of Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists, has been organized in Culpeper High School with the approval of Principal R. R. Tolbert and the Student Cooperative Association. The purpose of the society is to encourage and to reward individual achievement in journalism. It was established also to produce a better high school newspaper and to inspire the staff to greater effort.

Miss Mary George Bolen, at the February meeting of the Pepergram staff, outlined the value of a Quill and Scroll in the school and suggested the foundation of a local chapter. The staff voted unanimously to obtain a charter for our chapter in order that we might organize.

All students who have done exceptional work on the Pepergram or COLONNADE are eligible to become members of Quill and Scroll. The qualifications are as follows:

1. Members must be of junior or senior standing.

EDITORIAL STAFF

2 They must be in the upper third of their class at the time of their election.

3. They must have done superior work in some phase of journalism or creative endeavor.

4. They must be recommended by a faculty adviser.

5. They must be approved by the Executive Secretary of the Society.

BOYS' HI-Y CLUB

The Boys' Hi-Y Club, organized in Culpeper High School in 1935 is a club which fosters good citizenship, noble character, development of personality, and gentlemanly qualities as a whole. This organization is based upon, and strongly advocates the following: cleanness in sportsmanship, scholarship, speech and thought, and, also, strength of body, mind, and spirit.

Baskets of food for the needy are prepared and distributed by the Club's members at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Also, it sponsors social dances and parties, in addition to many talks by prominent citizens throughout the year.

GIRLS' HI-Y CLUB

Membership in the Girls' Hi-Y Club includes girls from the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes who maintain satisfactory scholastic standards and subscribe to the purpose of the Hi-Y—"to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the high school and community."

The Hi-Y is a character building organization and service club which seeks to extend high standards of wholesome living throughout the student body. Clean thoughts, clean speech, clean scholarship and clean sportsmanship are among the standards that Hi-Y members try to maintain and extend. The Club conducts chapel programs, sponsors campaigns on honesty, health, school spirit, etc.; and each year organizes a six weeks Bible Study course for the student body. The members derive much pleasure from welfare work such as sending Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets and adopting a small child for whom they provide the necessary clothing and medical attention.

THE GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club is composed of thirty-four girls and nine boys, selected by competitive tryouts before the officers and sponsor. The Club strives to encourage interest in music in the school and provides activity for those talented in singing. It offers training in choral work, and encourages music appreciation.

This year the Club has taken part in various school activities, and in connection with the American History classes, has presented several programs commemorating Lee-Jackson Day, Washington's Birthday, Signing of the Bill of Rights, and Armistice Day. Along with the Dramatic Club it presented a Christmas program in December. The last of April it competed with other Glee Clubs in the State Music Festival held at Richmond. It also contributed to the Baccalaureate and Commencement programs in June.

Class History

Ah! Such thoughts possess us! It seems only yesterday that we immature, undignified, and unsung Freshmen walked into the doors of C. H. S. and took our seats in the Freshman room. Our hearts beat wildly as we experienced the thrill of really being a part of the high school that we had looked up to for so long. Under the able leadership of Miss Juliet Gentile and Mr. Roy Wright, our sponsors, we elected our president, "Sonny" Jameson. We were pleasantly introducted into this higher realm by the seniors who entertained us at an enjoyable picnic at Hutcherson's Grove. Weren't we proud to be the first Freshman class ever to have our pictures made for the COLONNADE? During this year, the Glee Club received the rating of "excellent", the highest attainment it had ever reached.

The next step in our high school career was the Sophomore room. Can you imagine us dignified Seniors once being "wise fools"? Our sponsors that year were Mrs. George Hudson and Mr. B. B. Shotwell. The auditorium seating plan was adopted and the Seniors were given the privilege of proudly marching into assembly programs. How we underclassmen envied them and longed for the day when we might be seniors. "Moe" Trainum was elected Sophomore president, and Mr. Charles Caldwell became a valued member of our faculty. The spring of the year was an eventful season because the District Hi-Y conference was held in Culpeper. We were rapidly becoming sophisticated and changing classes was an old routine to us.

It was hard to realize that we had at last achieved the rank of Junior. We got off to a good start by electing Angus Green as president. We were the first Junior girls ever to have Miss Alma Garlick as a sponsor. The boys were extremely fortunate in gaining Mr. Ed. Null, under whose expert coaching, the football squad won the Class C Championship. For the first time in its ten years of publication the Pepergram, competing with other Virginia schools of its class, captured the highest honors. The Amateur Hour provided a new and original entertainment for the students. Almost all of us at some time during our junior year were infected with puppy love, but Kitty and Calvin headed the list with Mary Campbell and Ed running a close second. With May, came a gala evening when we entertained the Seniors at the traditional banquet and dance. The floor show at the banquet was especially enjoyable and the study hall provided a delightful setting for dancing.

In September, 1941, we who had entered high school as lowly Freshmen, three years ago, realized our desire of sitting in Room 1, the Senior home room. For the first time in our high school life, the boys and girls home roomed together under the capable sponsorship of Miss Mary Ruth Winn. The first significant event of the year was the election of our class president, Henry Clayton Johnson. Early in the session, we selected our class rings and their arrival in December was a joyous occasion. An entirely new organization, the S. C. A. was founded that same month. After much contemplation, we chose our invitations and personal cards. Once again the football team earned the Class C Championship. Peggy Johnson received the editorship of the 1942 COLONNADE and Thomas Hitt was made business manager. Much to our sorrow, Miss Winn left us in December by way of the altar. We recovered our loss by obtaining Miss Peggy Jones of Scranton. Immediately after Christmas Holidays our hard work on the COLONNADE and the senior play began in earnest. The tie between "Henny" and Rosalie and "The Duke" and "The Duchess" provided the big romances of the season. In June, came the major event of our lives. Tearfully and yet joyfully, we received our diplomas and bade adieu to four of the best years of our life.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior class of '42, being of sound minds, do hereby revoke any other Wills and Testaments made by us, and do declare this our final Will and Testament.

First, we bequeath to our undergraduates, our deepest regrets for not having a chance under Mrs. Lacy.

Second, we leave to our swell new sponsor, Miss Jones, more desks for an ever increasing Senior class, and we hope that they will have more dignity than we.

Third, we wish to express our hope that Miss Campbell will have more "non-chewing gum" students in the future.

Fourth, we bequeath the following to those who have been our steadfast helpers and friends:

We bequeath to "Tinker" Yancey, Pauline Inskeep's gift for Math—it would help prospects of being a Senior soon.

Ina and Odie May Brown leave their quiet manner to "Sug" Hutchison.

"Woots" Stringfellow leaves his Latin foundation (6 years) to Bobby Lillard.

To whoever wishes to acquire it, Sammy Brown's habit of being late.

Betty Simpson wills to Ellen Moore her appealing personality, only to ask that she refrains from using it at V. P. I.

"Butch" Brown leaves his neatness to Tootsie Kilby.

Ruth Smith bequeaths her charming voice to Anne Willis, but don't "Hurt" her man.

Jean White leaves a supply of her ever increasing vitality to Nancy Triplett.

Edna Harris wills her technique of "making eyes" to Millicent Hutcherson. Can she roll them in Algebra class!

Reubena Jenkins bequeaths several of her extra inches to "Dot" O'Bannon, hoping they might prove useful some day.

Kenneth Rankin leaves his energy plus to Claude Bradley.

Thelma Martin wills to not a single girl at C. H. S. her particular interests here.

We bequeath to the class of '43 a leader like Henry Clayton Johnson.

Peggy Johnson leaves her patriotism to the U. S. A. to Irene Fincham—speaking of the Army?

We will to Lillian Green, Faye Clarke's A's, but if she takes after her twin sister, she won't need them.

Eleanor Covington wills her bashfulness in Civics class to Jean Wood.

Mary Elizabeth Petty's success as salesgirl, we leave to Edna Settle.

Joanne Pierce bequeaths her primping apparatus to Carolyn Eller.

We will to the cheerleaders of '42 a mastermind to originate yells for the cheering squad.

Mary Lucy Willis and Isabel Booth bequeath their giggles to Marjorie Gilmore.

To the Athletic Association, we leave our fond hopes that before long they will have that gymnasium which they so fully deserve.

Audrey Huffman wills her baby talk to Ashby Griffin.

Celeste Rollins leaves her athletic ability and scholarships to Mardis Utz.

"Moe" Trainum bequeaths his way with the women to Brother Tootie.

Catherine Palmer wills her winning smile to Leta Fitzhugh—just count the men that she has attracted.

A. W. Hawkins leaves his stylish clothes to Billy Eddy.

Hawes Yowell wills his laugh to Scott Yancey—we wonder if it is catching.

Last Will and Testament--Continued

Bill Hitt bequeaths his convincing (?) arguments plus his mountain lingo to Edgar Bushong.

Billy Eggborn leaves his flirtatious manner combined with the "country" technique, to Winnie White.

David Carder wills his bea-u-tiful hair to Charles Partlow.

Frances Graves hates to do it, but she wills her laziness to Lila Dodson.

Katherine Whitehurst leaves her way with the male sex to "Polly" Johnson.

Patsy Carder wills her way of so thoroughly entertaing Mr. Heffernan's Chemistry class, to Peggy McVeigh.

Wert Hurt bequeaths his daily naps in class to Duff Green.

Vernette Viar leaves her interests and suggestions for our school advancement to Emily Smith.

Betty Jeffries wills her 5′ 1″ to Mary H. Catron.

J. M. Colvin bequeaths his regular attendance at school to "Wussy" Gilmore.

Knowing that she won't regret it, "Newt" Nalle wills her appetite to Annie Hitt, but wonders if Annie will regret it.

Anne Browning leaves her like for males, especially tall ones, to Connie Singers.

Donald Button wills his unlimited statistics on any and everything to Malcolm Crump.

Peggy O'Bannon bequeaths her oomph to Margaret Butler!

French Slaughter wills his faithful hat to Charles Smith, after the hayseeds have been shaken out.

Frances Partlow leaves her interest in the Sanitary to Jack Norris.

Rosalie Kibler wills her stage ability as "the maid", to Claudine Weaver.

Bob Chilton bequeaths his glasses to Sonny Williams, but don't take his get up and go spirit. (?)

We will to future Senior classes, a splendid worker like Thomas Hitt—we couldn't have pulled through without him by our side.

Dorothy Compton leaves her Presidency of the Glee Club to Peggy Dinkel.

Lastly, we give to the entire faculty our most hearty appreciation for helping us toward the goal for which we have been striving.

We pray that our readers will not entirely remember us by the above, but by those whom we leave to uphold the dignity of our class—Evelyn Myers, Mary Campbell Chilton, and Pearl Scott. We ask your pardon for all wisecracks, errors, and far-fetched ideas. Any similarity between this will and that of any previous class, is merely coincidental.

TOOTSIE REVERE

by
Harriet Green and Anne Willis

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of the midnight ride of Tootsie Revere.
It happened like this and it's plain to see
That long will it live in our memory.
It was after the game and all was quiet.
Our team had won and the town had retired,
When there suddenly rang out (this is on the level)
A cry that sounded quite like a Blue Devil.
In every house was seen a light,
The townsfolk feared there had been a fight.
They came into the street in their best nightgowns
To discover Toots running up and down.
He was yelling so everybody could hear.
"We've won the game or I'm Revere."
Maybe it's both.
It's hard to tell.
But the townspeople were as mad as——
(My, they were angry!)

The Prophecy

Greetings, Everyone! This is your Rovin' Reporter who knows not-so-much, sees everything, and tells plenty! There have been lots of interesting things happening in the last couple of days, and I'M here to broadcast the facts. FLASH! ! ! ! !

ROYAL COUPLE RETURN FROM ABROAD!

The Duke and Duchess of Bradley arrived yesterday in America. After a slight argument as to whether they should take the U.S.S. Spotswood, or the U.S.S. Blair, they decided to come by plane. The Royal Couple have been on an extended trip through the provinces of Italy, where the Duchess (formerly Miss Claire Haley of Culpeper, Virginia) has been learning the various dialects before venturing to teach the royal "Ducklings" the Latin language.

NEW "HITT" TUNE PRESENTED!

Thomas Hitt, the soulful crooner of Gigantic Studio was heard over Station D-U-L-L, singing the latest hit tune by that famous song-writer, William Hitt, better known to his friends as "Sundown." To give you an idea of his genius, let us quote a line from his newest effort. . . . "I'm Gonna Ride Old Paint Down The Trail That Ain't."

JOHNSON MAKES GREAT DISCOVERY!

Henry Clayton Johnson, the president of Western Union, gave out a startling disclosure yesterday when he made public for the first time the greatest improvement ever made in communication. After years of experimentation, he has succeeded in crossing a parrot and a carrier pigeon; this will mean that messages can not only be sent by bird but delivered verbally as well. Mr. Johnson modestly gave all the credit to his wife when he said, "I couldn't have done a thing without the understanding and co-operation of my beloved wife, Rosalie."

FAMOUS STAR BEGINS NEW PLAY!

Miss Eleanor Covington has decided to accept the part as "Mamie" in the new musical comedy "Little Imp", written by Miss Pauline Inskeep. The music was written by Miss Thelma Martin. Miss Patsy Carder will be Miss Covington's understudy.

HUTCHERSON PLANS EXTENSION!

Roy Hutcherson, Jr., has decided to extend his chain of dime stores until there is an R. & H. in every state in the Union. His secretary, Miss Valeria Johnson, gave out the information that Mr. Hutcherson will start in New York.

EGGBORN ENTERTAINS!

William H. Eggborn, who successfully runs an experimental farm in Ohio had a reunion with several of his old school friends last night at dinner. They were: Kenneth Rankin, manager of the A. & P.; Miss Reubena Jenkins, famous Power's model; and Miss Mary Elizabeth Petty, who is the world's fastest typist.

NEW RECORD ESTABLISHED!

All previous records were broken tonight when Mrs. Johnny Martin completed a non-stop flight around the world in 36 hours. Mrs. Martin's (formerly Miss Peggy O'Bannon) only companion was her husband. Since their marriage took place just before they took off, this was their honeymoon trip, and they had their heads in the clouds both figuratively and literally.

SPORTSWRITER UNDERGOES OPERATION!

Catherine Palmer, D.D.S., performed a very delicate operation on sportswriter Fannie Mae Myers, today when a decayed wisdom tooth was extracted. Nurse Vernette Viar said she had never seen such skill as was shown by Dr. Palmer.

BOLDRIDGE WINS SCHOLARSHIP!

Krispy Krunchies Company awarded the grand prize of a scholarship to Bookworm College to Edward Boldridge for answering their "Unanswerable Question of the Week." Mr. Boldridge appeared on the quiz program last night and replied to all questions with great ease, even to the poser sent in by Miss Mary Campbell Chilton, who won a cash prize for her question.

POLL TAKEN BY GIGANTIC STUDIO!

In a recent poll taken by Gigantic Studio, this question was asked women all over the country: Who is your favorite male actor and why?

Frances E. Graves, who is a secretary, replied, "Clark Gable because he is a real man."

Isabelle L. Booth, winner of the six-day bicycle race, said, "I like Costello because he's so silly."

Nurse Frances E. Partlow answered, "I just love Lew Ayres; he has such a wonderful bedside manner!"

A graduate of Strayers, Miss Margaret Butler, said, "Nelson Eddy is my favorite; he has such a beautiful voice."

Union Leader Elizabeth Cox said, "John Barrymore is my idea of a real actor."

Salesgirls Joanne Pierce, Pearl Scott, and Audrey Huffman all chose Charles Boyer because "His technique in lovemaking is just about perfect."

Religious Leader Mary Lucy Willis admires Fredric March because he gave such a wonderful performance in that wonderful picture, "One Foot in Paradise."

MEDAL PRESENTED TO PHARMACIST!

At the Pharmacists Convention in New York, Elmer Ray Trainum was presented with a gold medal for his extraordinary thesis on Pharmacy. Although Mr. Trainum (better known as "Moe" to his many friends) was rather shy about it, he finally was persuaded to say a few words. He mentioned that his firm foundation in Latin, learned in high school, was a great help to him in his work.

NEW BEST-SELLER PUBLISHED!

The famous authoress, Bettie Jane Simpson, who started her career as a writer on a school paper, has just finished her latest book, "Live, Love, and Learn." This newest effort is said to be her best yet. When questioned about her future plans, she replied, "Oh, I guess I'll just write some more books; I'm a bachelor girl and expect to remain one, so I've got to keep the wolf away from my door."

PROMINENT MEMBER OF THE "400" MAKES DEBUT!

Miss Celeste Rollins gave her coming-out party last night at the new "Pepper Shaker" club on Broadway. A few of the celebrities present were: Henry Hawes Yowell, prominent playboy; Miss Elizabeth Jeffries, society aviatrix; the famous authoress, Miss Jean White, who has just completed her new novel, "How to Manage Your Husband in Six Easy Lessons"; French D. Slaughter who is running for Governor of Virginia; and Miss Katherine Whitehurst, starlet at Gigantic Studio. The famous orchestra leader, A. W. Hawkins, conducted while the "Three Little Brownies," Ina Brown, Odie Mae Brown, and Anne Browning sang a new arrangement of an old tune, "Jealous." The master of ceremonies, Lawrence "Woots" Stringfellow, introduced the new singing discovery of the year, Miss Dorothy Compton, who sang "Whitey" with a far away look in her eyes.

BOOKWORM COLLEGE BURNS DOWN!

An unusual occurrence took place last night when Bookworm College caught fire. Professor Donald Button was so deeply engrossed in a lecture he was giving that he didn't realize that all the students had rushed out and that he was in a burning building. He was rescued by firemen Robert Covington and Samuel Brown, when Dean Robert Chilton suddenly asked, "Where's Professor Button?" Nurse Evelyn Myers cared for the slightly dazed professor. Two of the teachers, Miss Faye Clarke and Miss Edna Harris, were quoted as saying, "We grew up with Donald; he's always been that way . . . rather absent-minded."

"GREEN-EYED MONSTER" GETS FAVORABLE MENTION!

The art-critic, J. M. Colvin, gave very favorable mention to the newest portrait by the up-and-coming young artist, Miss Barbour Moore Johnson. Miss Johnson has never had any special training; she just seems to have a natural talent for art work. Her new picture is surrealistic . . . the title "Green-Eyed Monster."

CONGRESS ARGUES NEW BILL!

Secretary of State Ada Newton Nalle, Secretary of Agriculture Joseph Quaintance, and Ambassador to Russia Ruth F. Smith were present in Congress today when the Currency-Stabilization Bill came up to be voted upon. Speaker Wert H. Hurt recognized the Senator from Virginia, Kyle A. Brown, who filibustered for five hours to give his colleagues a chance to muster enough strength to insure the defeat of the bill.

Well, Ladies and Gentlemen, that's all for tonight, but I'll be back again tomorrow night, bringing you the latest news hot off the press. This is your Rovin' Reporter signing off. . . .
